Hello, your permissions website says "For further details about how authors can use their book content see our books authors home", but when you navigate to this link there is no information about how authors can share their book chapters. The only information I can find on the site is about journal articles. Are authors permitted to share their book chapters to institutional repositories? Several faculty members have asked me about this.

Thanks,

Dear Maria,

Thank you for your email.

Regretfully, Elsevier policy does not allow the posting of book chapters by authors and contributors to websites, including institutional repositories.

Elsevier book authors and contributors retain the right to post a summary of their contribution on their personal or institutional websites; see <http://www.us.elsevierhealth.com/article.jsp?pageid=23700016> for more information.

You can also link directly to any book chapters available on ScienceDirect via the DOI.

If you have any questions or I may be of further assistance, please let me know.

Hello,

Does this mean that authors cannot even share the original/submitted drafts of the book chapter, or the accepted manuscript?

Thanks,

Maria

Dear Maria,

Thank you for your email.

Yes, Elsevier doesn't allow that, instead you can post excerpts or summary of the book chapter for non-commercial usage.

Many thanks!
